

Open Call to Artists

A Feast for the Eyes: An exhibition curated by Mary Colby and Alison McKay

Bartow-Pell Mansion Museum will be holding an exhibition featuring contemporary art work with the opening reception scheduled for Saturday, May 11, 2019 at 2pm and on view through Sunday, May 26, 2019. The registration deadline is Friday March 15, 2019.

The focus of the exhibition will be on the material culture of food and drink. Artwork does not have to be literal or traditional, but the theme of food and drink should be used as a creative launching point. Food styles and influences, the ethnographic context of dining, cuisines of the world, family life, food gathering, cooking methods, kitchen technology, agriculture, nutrition, and sustainability are just a few ideas to whet your appetite for inspiration.

Artists may exhibit up to two works.

Eligibility: Open to any artist who creates original* two-dimensional works in oil, acrylic, pastel, watercolors, digital, etc., multi-media, photography. Submissions must be "recent works"; ones that have been created within the past three (3) years. Submissions will be reviewed, and notifications of entries will be made on Monday, April 15, 2019.

*Reproduction prints (serigraphs, giclée, etc.) are not eligible.

Size and Weight Limitations: We can accept framed pieces up to 32 inches in width and 60 inches in height with a weight limit of 25 lbs. Artwork must be delivered with appropriate hardware and ready to hang with picture wire.

Sales of artwork are encouraged. Please consider submitting works that are for sale. All sales will be facilitated by Bartow-Pell on behalf of the artist during the exhibition. We ask that a 15% donation of the proceeds of sold artwork be made by the artist to Bartow-Pell.
